

Scam Alert

Novo Nordisk has been alerted to a potential scam, involving the phishing of personal information in exchange for an offer of paid promotional activity with Novo Nordisk. It is important to note that Novo Nordisk has no connection to these fraudulent activities and at no time would request personal information such as passwords, etc. The scam has so far been seen on Facebook – and appears on a number of Job related forums, from a variety of posters.

All communication on behalf of Novo Nordisk uses email addresses with the Novo Nordisk domain (ie novonordisk.com) rather than gmail accounts.

We advise not to engage with such scams, and if you have provided any information in response to this (or similar) advertisements, that you take action to secure your personal information. Novo Nordisk is investigating the matter further.